-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by JP'619A.

JP'619A teaches, in the provided English language translation for example, a hood-type annealing furnace (drawing 1) which can be employed for treating steel strip or wire bunches, with an annealing base (1) for receiving material to be annealed, a protective hood (3) placed on the base in a gas tight manner, a radial blower comprising a blade wheel (4) and guide apparatus (5) enclosing the blade wheel (4), a heat exchanger (8) which is connected on a pressure side of the radial blower and opens on an output side in an annular gap (9) between the guide apparatus (5) and the hood (3), and a deflection device (12) meeting the requirements of the instant claims, where the heat exchanger is disposed "beneath" (at a lower level than) an annular flange for connecting the hood and base in a gas tight manner (see the flange in drawing 1 for example), and where the flow conduit (7) between the blower and heat exchanger consists of an annular conduit concentric with the annular gap (9) separated by a cylindrical wall (6 forms a wall separating gaps 7 and 9), thereby showing all aspects of the above claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 7/11/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's argument that although the deflection slide of JP'619A might be at a lower level than the annular flange, it is not “beneath” the flange, as instantly required by all of the pending claims is not persuasive because the term “beneath” also includes components at a lower level, but not directly under another component. In other words, the term “beneath” is not of the same scope or meaning as the term “directly beneath”.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Scott Kastler whose telephone number is (571) 272-1243. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday.
